

Syed Abdullah Ahmed

Toronto ON, Canada || abdullahahm24@gmail.com || +1(289)2595219

Dear Deloitte Team,

Attending the Path to Purpose Student Summit and Development Day events gave me a real look into what Deloitte is all about. I walked away inspired and with a goal. From learning about initiatives like Green Dot Salaam and Deloitte's in-house accelerator program, to hearing directly from mentors and employees about the work culture, it was clear to me that Deloitte doesn't just support innovation, it actively invests in its people and their growth. That's something I want to be part of.

What excites me most about the Technology & Transformation (T&T) team is how it blends technical innovation with impact-driven problem solving. It aligns perfectly with my interest in technology and entrepreneurship, to tackle real-world challenges. During the pandemic, I co-founded Rozgari, a platform connecting daily-wage workers to customers. We raised 1,000,000 PKR through outreach campaigns and launched a dual online and SMS-based booking system averaging five service bookings daily within a year. I led service provider onboarding (25+ in 18 months), designed targeted promotions, and handled customer inquiries, building lasting trust on both sides of the marketplace. That experience taught me how to create something meaningful from the ground up and see it through.

Last summer, I interned at AletheaAI, where I worked on backend efficiency, cleaning up APIs, optimizing performance, and gaining hands-on experience with Django, Postman, and DBeaver. Outside of internships, I'm currently building Cricket Squad Hub, a platform for my weekend cricket team to manage match availability and team coordination. It's helped me strengthen both my technical skills and my ability to understand user needs and adapt accordingly.

What keeps me motivated is learning, collaborating, and building things that matter. At York University, I serve as Events Executive for the Muslim Student Association (MSA) where I lead outreach, logistics, and execution for events that bring together the Muslim community on campus, from hosting career panel sessions to movie and campfire nights, to paintball and charity drives. Whether I'm managing events or debugging code at 2 AM, I enjoy diving into challenges, learning fast, and working with others to figure it out. I'm a big believer in keeping myself busy and active. On weekends, you'll find me on the cricket field or a football run with the boys or binging movies and TV shows. (Yes, all genres. Marvel to Bio pics, Nolan to Scorsese.)

The TTC ride to, the green stairs at, the food at, Deloitte has started to grow on me. Not just because of the amazing people I've met like Bhavik Shah, Sukhjeevan Kaur, Atir Syed, Maati Lahroussi and Chantal Wayland, but also because of the values and the environment I've seen in action. I'm excited about the possibility of contributing to a team that's bold, forward-thinking, purpose-driven and follows "Together Makes Progress".

Thank you for taking the time to consider my application. I'd love the opportunity to bring my creativity, problem-solving mindset, and energy to Deloitte.

Regards,
Syed Abdullah Ahmed